12.03 The vacation year shall be from April 1st to March 31st, inclusive.

12.04 If during a period of any type of leave, an employee is granted bereavement leave, leave for family related responsibilities or sick leave with a medical certificate, upon request by the employee and approval by the Employer, the leave period shall be added to the period of leave originally planned or be credited to the employee for use at a later date.

13.02 For purpose of this Article, continuous employment starts with the date of hiring with the Employer, except for those employees who were on staff on July 1, 1990. These employees' service with the Public Service of Canada, either continuous or discontinuous, will be counted in the calculation.

13.03 An employee is entitled to vacation leave with pay to the extent of his earned credits but an employee who has completed six (6) months of continuous employment may receive an advance of credits equivalent to the anticipated credits for the vacation year.

13.04 Employees are expected to take all their vacation leave during the vacation year in which it is earned.

13.05 Where in any vacation year an employee has not been granted all the vacation leave credited to him, the unused portion of his vacation leave shall be carried over into the following vacation year. Carry-over beyond one year will be allowed only under extraordinary circumstances as judged by the Employer.

13.06 The amount of annual leave accumulated at the effective date of the collective agreement will be maintained in the employee's bank until it is reduced either through usage or because the leave has been paid out.

13.07 During any vacation year, upon application by the employee and at the discretion of the Employer earned but unused vacation leave credits shall be compensated at the employee's daily rate of pay.

13.08 The Employer will make every reasonable effort not to recall an employee to work after he has proceeded on vacation leave.

13.10 When the Employer cancels or alters a period of vacation which it has previously approved in writing, the Employer shall reimburse the employee for the non-returnable portion of vacation contracts and reservations made by the employee in respect of that period, subject to the presentation of such documentation as the Employer may require. The employee must make every reasonable attempt to mitigate any losses incurred and will provide proof of such action to the Employer.

13.11 When an employee dies or otherwise ceases to be employed, he or his estate shall be paid an amount equal to the product obtained by multiplying the number of days of earned but unused vacation with pay to his credit by the daily rate of pay as calculated from the classification prescribed in his certificate of appointment on the date of the termination of his employment.

13.12 Upon request, the Employer shall grant the employee his unused vacation leave credits prior to termination of employment if this will enable him, for purposes of severance pay, to complete the first year of continuous employment in the case of lay-off, or the tenth (10th) year of continuous employment in the case of resignation.

13.13 An employee whose employment is terminated by reason of a declaration that he abandoned his position is entitled to receive the payment referred to in clause 20.11, if he requests it in writing within six months following the date upon which his employment is terminated.

13.14 In the event of the termination of employment for reasons other than death or lay-off the Employer shall recover from any monies owed the employee, an amount equivalent to unearned vacation leave taken by the employee, calculated on the basis of the rate of pay applicable to his classification on the date of termination.

14.03 Unless otherwise informed by the Employer, a declaration signed by the employee stating that because of illness or injury he was unable to perform his duties, shall, when delivered to the Employer, be considered as meeting the requirements.

14.04 When an employee is granted sick leave with pay and injury-on-duty leave is subsequently approved for the same period, it shall be considered for the purpose of the record of sick leave credits that the employee was not granted sick leave with pay.

14.05 When an employee has insufficient or no credits to cover the granting of sick leave with pay, sick leave with pay may, at the discretion of the Employer, be granted to an employee:

- (a) for a period of up to twenty-five (25) days if a decision on an application for injury-on-duty leave is being awaited, or
- (b) for a period of up to fifteen (15) days in all other cases, subject to the deduction of such advanced leave from any sick leave credits subsequently earned or in case of termination of employment for reasons other than death or lay-off, subject to the recovery of the advance leave from any monies owed to the employee.

14.06 Sick leave credits earned but unused by an employee during a previous period of employment shall be restored to an employee whose employment was terminated by reason of lay-off and who is reappointed within one (1) year from the date of lay-off.

14.07 An employee shall be granted injury-on-duty leave with pay for such reasonable period as may be determined by the Employer where it is determined by a Provincial Worker's Compensation Board that he is unable to perform his duties because of:

APPENDIX "B"COMMITTEE FOR CURATORIAL PROMOTION*Preamble

The Committee for Curatorial Promotion of the National Gallery of Canada (NGC) will consider promotions from Associate Curator at L/N-8 level to Curator at L/N-10 level and from Assistant Curator at L/N 06 level to Associate Curator at L/N-8 level. This standard provides for the recognition of outstanding performance by individuals who, in the judgement of the committee, merit promotion on the basis of the quality and importance of their research and curatorial contributions, even though their duties do not correspond to all factor requirements stated in the standard, such as the requirement for the direction of the work of other professionals.

This Committee will be made up of the Chief Curator, the Deputy Director (ex-officio), the Curator responsible for the area in which the candidate works and either a Curator from another area of the Gallery or an outside expert in the candidate's field of research when no curator at the National Gallery has this specific expertise. This committee will meet on a tri-yearly basis with consideration of the candidates' submissions normally being scheduled during September of every third year, The first evaluation under this process will occur in September 1998.

Procedures for Submission

When a candidate, at either level L/N-6 or L/N-8, or his/her supervisor has determined that the candidate's research and curatorial contribution merits consideration for promotion through this Committee, the following procedures should be followed:

- (a) A submission must be made initially to the Chief Curator.
- (b) When the Chief Curator is in agreement with the proposal, he/she shall call together the Committee, and defend the candidates' submission.

All submissions shall contain, as a minimum, the following:

1. Name
2. Education (university, specializations, etc.)
3. Scholarships, awards, grants, etc. (names, dates and contributions).

4. Positions held in reverse chronological order that are relevant to the application submitted including duties and places. The position held at the time of application should be described in detail.
5. Research: types, subjects, and dates.
6. Publication: books, articles, commentaries, reports, etc. Each shall be identified in chronological order. Their place of publication shall also be identified and a few lines explaining the subject discussed should be provided. Samples of the various publications are required, (These will be returned to the employee whenever so required)
7. Acquisitions: works of art acquired for the collection through gift or purchase should be listed alphabetically by artist, giving title, date and medium. The justifications prepared for these acquisitions should be provided with the list.
8. Exhibitions and Installations: Each shall be identified in chronological order. A few lines, describing the content, location and nature of the exhibition (major exhibition, loan exhibition, travelling exhibition, in house installation etc.) should be provided.
9. Performance appraisal. The candidate's last performance appraisal must be attached in addition to an appraisal written especially for the submission to the committee.
10. Lists of persons providing references with a note explaining their respective qualifications. This list should not be limited to professors or thesis directors. It should also contain names of specialists working in the same discipline as the candidate who are known at the national and international levels.
11. Copies of letters of reference. The employee's supervisor may also submit names of other persons able to provide pertinent information on the candidate. In such cases, the supervisor shall provide a brief explanation as to the referees qualifications. In the same way the Committee can also add to these lists of references at its discretion.

The composition of the committee is subject to its own ongoing review. At the committee's discretion, it has the right to invite other persons, in light of specific submissions to be reviewed, to become interim members of the committee with full voting rights.

There are three main areas in which candidates must show themselves deserving of consideration by the Committee:

- (a) The day-to-day performance in the duties of their position;
- (b) contributions to professional activities outside the workplace; and
- (c) products of research and curatorial activities such as publications, exhibits, acquisitions and films.

The norm usually applied to this committee when formulating recommendations for promotion to the Chief of Personnel is as follows:

- promotion to the L/N-8 level would require evidence of professional commitment with significant contributions to the advancement of knowledge in the candidate's field beyond that normally expected at the L/N-6 level;
- promotion to the L/N-10 level would require consistently exceptional contributions to the advancement of knowledge resulting in a broadly based national recognition and, where the field has wider application outside the country rather than inside, international recognition.

It must be emphasized that each case is judged on its own merits.

The Committee will inform the Director of the National Gallery of Canada in writing of its recommendation. The Director's decision in either accepting or rejecting the recommendation of the Committee shall be final and binding on all parties.

All promotions made under this process will take effect on the first of the month following the Director's decision.

It is the responsibility of the Chief Curator to brief the candidate and others concerned on the reasons for the decision.
