7.05 Rest Breaks

- (a) At the discretion of the Company employees scheduled to work four (4) hours may receive an unscheduled rest break.

 - (ii) Part-time employees who bid monthly in accordance with 7.07(b)

7.07 Shift Development & Bidding

Employees will bid their shift schedule according to seniority, status and qualifications. If an employee's new schedule conflicts with his/her previous schedule, due to a shift bid, the Company may alter the shift or utilize relief provided it does not reduce the hours of the originally scheduled employee. If the Company is unable to resolve the conflict the affected employee will receive minimum rest as outlined in Article 7.11. Employees who are required to work seven (7) consecutive days will receive overtime rates for their seventh day of work. Employees will not be denied the right to bid for any airline pool unless there is a bona fide reason.

 - (iii) Shifts will be finalized seven (7) days prior to implementation.
 - (iv) Shifts may be subject to rebid, in accordance with the above, to address operational requirements that result in permanent changes to the schedule.

(b) Preferential Bid System

The Company and the Union agree to two (2) trials of two (2) or three (3) months each.

Upon completion of the second trial, the Company and the Union will set a date for a vote within 30 days. The result of this vote will determine if shift schedules will be developed for one (1) to three (3) month periods, or on a monthly basis (the "Bid Periods").

The Company and Union Shift Committee will meet to discuss the manpower and will have input into the shift requirements.

The Company and the Union will work together during the bidding process.

When the schedule has been assigned, in the event of flight schedule cancellation or alternate, the following will be the process:

The employee will be paid his/her regular rate of pay for the hours taken off if the hours cannot be replaced within thirty (30) days. The employer shall ensure that when replacing the hours, they will be given no less than four (4) hour blocks, and will respect the regulations set in Articles 7.09 and 7.12 as well as not incurring overtime (i.e. the employee will not be required to work in excess of eight (8) hours a day or forty (40) hours per week).

The purpose of the preferential bid is to allow employees to select their shifts and to maximize the number of hours they work while providing a minimum threshold.

*with the exception of those employees who choose to alter their minimum hours as per LOU 8.

- (vii) No part-time employee shall schedule themselves more than five (5) days per week. The work week will be defined as Sunday to Saturday (to meet pay periods).
- (viii) A shift will be a minimum of four (4) hours.
- (ix) Shift schedules must contain at least ten (10) hours off duty between the last shift worked that day and the commencement of the next day's shift.
- (x) Employees may bid a maximum of two (2) shifts per day. If split shifts are worked, there must be a minimum of one half (½) hour between shifts. This only applies when an employee is working for two (2) different carriers in the same day.

When assigning shifts, employees will be given two (2) consecutive days off and a minimum of sixteen (16) hours per week.
- (xii) Ad hoc work which becomes available after the shift schedule has been posted will be filled in accordance with Article 7.10.

- (g) Employees will complete the bidding process within twenty-four (24) hours. Relief employees may bid by memo or phone.
- (h) Work schedules will be posted at least seven (7) days prior to the first day of each month.

7.12 Temporary Reduction in Hours

Notwithstanding 7.04(b) it is not the Company's intent to have part-time employees scheduled with limited or no hours for an extended period of time. When it is expected that a part-time employee's hours will fall below an average of sixteen (16) hours per week for a period of three (3) weeks or more, the General Manager, and the Union at Headquarters level, or their designates, will meet to find alternatives. Where no alternative can be found, employees will have the ability to take temporary lay off. The provision of Article 12 will apply when the lay off exceeds thirty (30) calendar days unless otherwise mutually agreed between the parties.

LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING #2

Re: Return to Work Program

The Company and Union agree to a Return To Work program for employees covered by this Agreement. The Program is intended to assist employees who are absent due to accident or illness to return to productive work by allowing them to work modified hours and/or duties. The Company and the Union agree that workplace accommodations may require the cooperation of all three parties in order to be successful. They further agree that the Company, the Union and the employee have an obligation to facilitate the accommodation process.

Employees who identify themselves as candidates for this Program must inform both Company and Union, locally, that they wish to return to work on modified duties.

Before returning an employee to work, the Company may require that the employee provide the Company with a certificate from his or her treating physician that provides information reasonably required to assess the employee's ability to return to work and/or to assist with devising an appropriate return to work plan. Such information may include, but is not limited to, details concerning the tasks/duties the employee is able to perform, limits on the hours of work, and the expected duration of the modified work period.

Upon receiving a request for Return to Work on modified duties, the Company will examine whether it can accommodate the request. The Union may require information related to the employee's restrictions/modified duties where the seniority related rights of others may be affected.

Modified work will not restrict or reduce the number of scheduled hours an employee is entitled to, unless reduced hours are part of the identified restriction or unless there is insufficient modified work.

An employee seeking a return to work is also to be made aware of the Company's policy concerning workplace accommodation, which policy may be amended from time to time at the Company's discretion.

LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING #3

Re: Employee Abuse

Employees sometimes face situations of violence or abuse in their personal life that may affect their attendance or performance at work.

The parties agree that when there is adequate verification from a recognized professional (i.e. doctor, lawyer, professional counsellor) an employee who is in an abusive or violent personal situation will not be subjected to discipline without giving full consideration to the facts in the case of each individual and the circumstances surrounding the incident otherwise supportive of discipline.

This statement is subject to a standard of good faith on the part of the Company, the Union and affected employees and will not be utilized by the Union or employees to subvert the application of otherwise appropriate disciplinary measures.

The Company will not unreasonably deny an employee's request for an unpaid leave related to a situation of personal violence or abuse.

WOMEN'S/EMPLOYEE ADVOCATE

The parties recognize that employees who are in an abusive or violent personal situation may prefer to raise or discuss the issue with a person who is known to them. The parties further recognize that victims of physical or emotional violence may not be aware of specialized resources that are available to them to address such issues.

For these reasons, the parties agree to implement an Employee Advocate position in the workplace.

The Employee Advocate will meet with employees as required, discuss issues of violence or abuse with them and refer them to the Company's EAP services, or another appropriate service, as may be necessary.

The Employee Advocate is an unpaid position. The Union will provide all required training to the Employee Advocate.

The Company will designate a manager to be the lead contact for the Employee Advocate and to work with the Advocate and to support the employees.

The Employee Advocate will attempt to schedule all employee meetings in a manner that does not interfere with work responsibilities. If the Advocate must meet with an employee during a shift, both the Employee Advocate and the employee must obtain prior approval from their respective supervisor. The Company will not unreasonably withhold consent.

The Company will provide access to a confidential phone line and a computer with internet access that can be maintained by the Employee Advocate and that is accessible for employees to contact the Employee Advocate. The Company will also provide access to a private office so that confidentiality can be maintained when an employee is meeting with the Employee Advocate.

The Company and the Union will develop appropriate communications to inform employees about the advocacy role and contact numbers to reach the Employee Advocate.

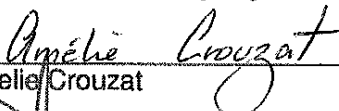

The Company will grant leave to the Employee Advocate to participate in an initial 40-hour training program. The Company will also allow the Employee Advocate to participate in annual training, to a maximum of three days. All training for the Employee Advocate will be organized and paid for by the Union.

The Employee Advocate must report incidents of workplace violence, bullying or harassment to management.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have signed this Agreement.

LETTER OF UNDERSTANDING #5

Re: Employment Equity

Employment Equity or diversity means respect for the uniqueness of each individual who works for the Company. That uniqueness may be characterized by many facets, some of which include: race, colour, religion, ethnicity, gender, disability, sexual orientation, marital status, education and experience. The Company expects all employees to embrace the value diversity by treating each other with respect and dignity, thereby maintaining an inclusive environment that ensures merit and fairness are the hallmarks of all decision making.

The Company is and has always been committed to maintaining an environment that values the diversity of its workplace. This commitment is the basis for attainment of our overall staffing objectives; to attract and retain the most talented employees and to enable each employee to contribute to their full potential.

The Employment Equity Act provides for the identification and elimination of barriers, and implementation of programs to ensure proportional representation of groups designated as traditionally under-utilized in the Canadian work force, namely: women, Aboriginals, visible minorities and people with disabilities.

The Company will provide accommodation to make a job or work site appropriately suited to the health, or culture needs of individuals. Accommodation is determined by factors including, but not restricted to: cost, risks to health and safety, and negative impacts on the rights of other employees.

No individual will be awarded or denied employment or advancement for reasons unrelated to their ability to do the job.

- Unwanted sexual solicitation, physical contact or advances, particularly made with implied reprisals, if rejected.
- Refusing to work or share facilities with another employee because of the other's gender, disability, sexual orientation, racial, religious or ethnic background.
- Backlash or retaliation for the lodging of a complaint or participation in an investigation.

OBLIGATION OF EMPLOYEES

Employees are obligated to bring any complaint of harassment first to the harasser if possible, failing resolution then to the Company or the Union as soon as possible. If the Company /Union is not made aware of any issues of harassment, they may be unable to address such issues.

WHAT HARASSMENT IS NOT

Properly discharged supervisory responsibilities including work allocation, disciplinary action, follow-up on work absences or the requirement of job performance standards or conduct that does not interfere with a climate of understanding and respect for the dignity and worth of all employees are not considered harassment. Neither is this policy meant to inhibit free speech or interfere with the normal social relations that are a part of life in a working environment.

FILING A COMPLAINT

If an employee believes that he/she has been harassed on the basis of any of the ground stated above, that employee should:

- Tell the alleged harasser(s) to stop, if possible;
- Document the event(s), complete with the time, date, location, names of witnesses and details of each event, if possible;
- If the harassed employee does not feel able to approach the alleged harasser(s) directly, or if, after being told to stop, the alleged harasser continues, the harassed employee should:
- Lodge a complaint either directly through a person on his/her behalf with any Company or Union Representative.

INVESTIGATION

In minor cases, the Company and Union agree that the Union and the Company may try to resolve a harassment complaint informally using the Internal Procedure without a full investigation when so requested by the complainant. The outcome of this attempted resolution will be communicated to both the Union and the Company.

If the matter remains unresolved, is a serious issue of personal harassment, or is an incident of sexual or Human Rights harassment, as defined in the ACT, there will be a joint investigation of the complaint according to established methods. Once informed of a complaint requiring joint investigation, the Union's Human Rights Coordinator or the Company's Department Manager will immediately inform his/her counterpart and together these two will conduct a thorough joint investigation according to established methods. Where the complainant is a woman and the complaint involves sexual harassment or gender discrimination, the joint investigation team will include at least one (1) woman.

The joint investigation will include an interview of the complainant and the alleged harasser and may include interviewing witnesses and other persons named in the complaint. It is the intention of the Union and the Company that, in most cases, the investigation will take place within five (5) days and shall be concluded within fifteen (15) days of the lodging of a complaint. An extension to the time limits may be granted by mutual agreements.

The interview timing and location will recognize the need to maintain confidentiality. The identity of the complainant, the alleged harasser(s), and the nature of the complaint will be kept confidential and only persons with a need to know will be informed of the complaint.

RESOLUTION

Upon completion of their joint investigation, the investigators will present their report either jointly or separately and may include recommendations to the Director of Human Resources and the Unifor Local President. Within ten (10) days of receiving the report(s), the Director of Human Resources will communicate the findings of the investigation (whether or not harassment has been substantiated) to the complainant, the respondent and the President of the Local Union, including discipline if warranted. Violation of this Policy may lead to discipline up to and including termination.

The parties recognize the damage a false charge made under this policy may bring upon an employee. Therefore, if during the investigation it is found that such a charge of harassment was made with malicious intent disciplinary action would be taken against the complainant consistent with the just cause provisions of the applicable provisions of the Collective Agreement.

RIGHT OF APPEAL

Where any party to the investigation is not satisfied with the decision, a letter requesting a review of the decision will be sent to the Regional Director of Human Resources Canada within fourteen (14) calendar days of receipt of the decision.

Where the Unifor is not satisfied with the decision, the complaint will be referred to expedited arbitration with a single arbitrator.

Employees who feel that their concerns were not addressed in the in-house or internal process may file a complaint with the Canadian Human Rights Commission.

Where changes in the workplace are made necessary by demonstrated harassment, the harasser shall be subject to changes such as transfer or reassignment, except where the complainant is transferred at his/her request.

The purpose of this policy and procedure is to allow the Union and the Company the opportunity to address and resolve internal problems related to the objective of achieving a harassment free workplace. This policy and procedure in no way precludes the complainant's right to seek action under the Canadian Human Rights Legislation.

The parties also agree to communicate this information about the procedure to the workforce through local union newsletters, bulletin board notices and Company publications.
